"...we're pleased to play Scott's music...it sounds great on the air and fits the channel perfectly. Keep up the great work..." – Russ Davis (Program Director, XM Radio "Beyond Jazz"; 11/16/07)

"THE BADDEST MOTHER FS I'VE HEARD IN 10 YEARS!" -- Oteil Burbridge (World-renowned bass player, 8/1/04)

"One of the best bands playing through the circuit!" -- Eric Mullins (Owner of The Pourhouse Music Hall; Raleigh, NC)

"Go There is definitely a breath of fresh air, demonstrating an example of where we can all go when we step outside the box and take that musical chance." -- RaleighMusic.com Show review (writer, Jay Shirley)

"Though Sawyer can swing cerebrally, solving prickly harmonic riddles like a mathematician, he's at his best as a blue-collar improviser, combining earthy jazz and accessible blues that make the listener wanna holler. My fave Sawyer-led combo is "Go There", a rockin' power trio fueled by the percolating backbeat of Kenny Soule (ex-Nantucket) and the bass rumble of Bobby Patterson." -- The Independent Weekly-"Best Bet's" Section (writer, Joe Vanderford)

"The absolute real deal!" - Rob Watson (Critically acclaimed singer/songwriter)

"Go There is about as nasty as it gets! These guys will twist and turn a tune that will bring you to your knees, begging for mercy and hoping for more. And, despite the absence of vocals, a Go There show will never leave you wishing for a song to be sung, as the melodies and grooves captivate the audience from beginning to end." -- RaleighMusic.com Scott Sawyer Interview (writer, Mike Rosado)
